[Summary]

A latin description is given to the species Ardisia cameronensis Yang.

Key words: Ardisia cameronensis Yang, Latin description.

Yang. Yuen-po. 1989. Bull. Taiwan For. Res. Inst. New Series. 4 (4) : 235—235.

Introduction

In a recent publication, "Taxonomy of Subgenus Bladhia of Ardisia (Myrsinaceae)," in the volume 34 of the journal Taiwania, a new species named Ardisia cameronensis Yang was left out its latin description (Yang and Dwyer, 1989). Therefore, it became a nomen nudum. In order to make this binomial valid, a latin description is added as follows.

Ardisia cameronensis Yang in Taiwania 34: 258-261. f. 56. 1989.

Suffrutex; caules erecti, 50-60 cm alti; folia subverticillata, elliptica vel elliptico-ovata, sessilia, 12-25 cm longa, 2.9-6.5 cm lata, apice acuta, basi obtusa, serrulata, nervis lateralibus 6-14-jugis; inflorescentia axillaris, racemoso-paniculata; sepala obovata vel obovato-elliptica vel ovata, 1-2mm longa, apice obtusa, ciliata, punctata; petala ovata, 3-3.7 mm longa, 1.8-2.2 mm lata, punctata; antherae oblongae; ovarium globosa, globum.
